Motivational Maps Profiling

Do you want to know more about what drives you or members of your team so you can have a more strategic approach to your and your team's learning and development plans? If so, then look no further than the Motivational Maps profiling tool. Motivational Maps combines Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs, Edgar Schein's Career Anchors (dealing with competence, motives and values) & the Enneagram tool (defining true personalities) to deliver a unique diagnostic instrument that produces an astonishingly accurate account of where the 'energies & emotions' are being directed and how strong they are, on an individual, team & organisational level .

At the heart of Motivational Mapping is the appreciation that motivation is 'invisible' – it is a need, a want, a desire, a drive, an internal energy. This invisible 'energy' has 3 sources within the human psyche: our personality, our self-concept and our expectations.

Motivational Maps integrates all these 3 sources of the human psyche to draw a robust profile of the motivations and motivation levels of individuals, teams and organisations. This makes Motivational Mapping insights invaluable for Leadership and Management development, Self-development, Team building, Performance Management and Reward Strategies development.
